8th of MARCH: INTERNATIONAL DAY OF STRUGGLE FOR WOMEN'S EMANCIPATION

REAL EQUALITY FOR WOMEN

Only the revolution will give it, understood, so we are for the emancipation of women but it is part of the whole revolution and it is part of the emancipation of the proletariat; therefore, it will be achieved in communism.

According to Marxism the emancipation of women is part of the emancipation of the proletariat, that is when there will be full equality before life, it will be leaps that will be made; it is like this, the desire is one thing, the reality is another. That is what Marxism says, a decree is not enough.

Lenin distinguished this well, he said: One thing is equality before the law, guaranteeing the equality of men and women, and another thing equality before life. Of course, and from there he said that the problem is for women to struggle for their own emancipation and they can only do this within the emancipation of the proletariat, there is no other way to do it.

Comrade Chiang Ching has been the consistent standard-bearer of Maoism. The trial of that miserable revisionist Teng Xiao-ping proves it. While Wang Jun-wen, who was considered the future leader, the one who was to follow Mao, miserably bent the knee, while Yao Wen-yuan bent the knee and begged for mercy, Comrade Chiang Ching did not bend the knee, nor did Comrade Chang Chun-chao, but it was Comrade Chiang Ching who held the banner, that is what must be understood. Without denying the role of Comrade Chang Chun-chao, it is not the same as the role of Comrade Chiang Ching in the Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution, facts are facts, you cannot deny them with words.

Comrade Chiang Ching's role in the Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution is extraordinary! And she has upheld the banner of Maoism without bending the knee. Who called them fascists, who called them revisionists, who called them “you are godless and lawless”, who called them, was‘nt it her? We must remember that. She is the torch that lights the path of our class.
